

TASK 1: Think of someone in your life who has inspired you – what have they done? Why are they inspirational? What makes you want to be like them? It can be a cousin, an auntie, a grandparent, parent, carer or sibling. Create a poster which includes photos, pictures, and writing, explaining their importance to you.

Our School Values and Your Tasks

What is this booklet?

This booklet is to provide you with the opportunity to challenge yourself to complete a variety of tasks, which demonstrate all of our school values. Each task is a small project and will therefore require time, support and a great deal of effort. There is no deadline for completing each of the tasks, it can take as long as needed to produce work and outcomes of the highest quality, even if this means it takes more than an academic year.

When each piece of work is finished, the evidence should be brought to school with the booklet and should have a parent/carer signature to show it was completed outside of school. Teachers will then sign to say they have seen the work and are astounded by the quality and effort put in to the task. Awards will be given when tasks are finished, as explained below.

Do you dare to take on the challenge?

RUBY

To achieve a Ruby 'C of E' award, complete one activity for each of the school values

EMERALD

To achieve an Emerald 'C of E' award, complete two activities for each of the school values.

DIAMOND

To achieve a Diamond 'C of E' award, complete all activities for each of the school values.

TASK 1: Challenge yourself: Could you produce a family tree showing at least 3 generations of your family, this can include photos and writing – who are you and where have you come from?

TASK 2: With a grown up, demonstrate your respect for your local environment by creating a picture book of the different trees and plants you see on a walk. Notice how lucky we are to have such beautiful countryside around us. Take photos, draw pictures, or you could even press flowers from your own garden.

TASK 3: Think of one thing that you find difficult that you would like to be successful at during the course of the school year - Set yourself a target that you hope you can achieve – create a small booklet with pictures of the steps you will need to take to get there. When you have achieved your goal, include a photo or something else to show your success.

Forgiveness flowers – with a grown up, cut out 5 flower petals, or as many to fit around your flower centre – on each petal draw a picture of how you could show that you are forgiving someone, then stick them down to create a flower.

Directions for making a kindness jar:

Gather your supplies and your family! Take turns coming up with random acts of kindness that you would like to complete as a family, and write them down on your pieces of paper. Put all of your papers in the jar and decide on how often you are going to complete these acts of kindness. Weekly, bi-weekly, monthly? Take turns selecting an act of kindness out of the jar and completing them as a family! Find a way to share your successes.

TASK 1: Set yourself a challenge and learn something new – maybe you could learn to ride a bike? Maybe you could learn to skip? Or maybe you could go even further and take up a new sport? Take a photo to show your success, or ask your grown up to write a letter to share how hard you have worked.

TASK 2: Tackle something that you find difficult or that worries you and keep going until you can do it – putting your own coat on, tying your own shoes, or maybe you could go further and learn a poem off by heart to read out to the class. Take a photo to show your success, ask your grown up to write a letter to share how hard you have worked, or find your own way to share your success.

TASK 3: What does courage mean to you? What does perseverance mean to you? Think of someone who has shown courage and perseverance in their life—it can be someone in your family or someone famous, someone who has overcome challenges to achieve something special. Find pictures / photos of this person—create a Courage & Perseverance collage.

TASK 2: Make a selection of garden items that will attract a variety of animals or insects to provide them with food and/or a home – carry out this task over the course of the school year to see if you can attract creatures from each of the seasons. These could include a homemade bird feeder to put in your garden, a bee house, a hedgehog house or some sort of bug hotel. Take photos of all the creatures that visit your garden and create a diary of when they come
